

Connecting
Canadian Education
in New Dimensions

Canada
International Education Consortium
Le consortium canadien de l'éducation internationale

Canada
International Education
Consortium
(CIE-Co)

A Note on

Canada International Education Consortium (CIE-Co)

Canada International Education Consortium (CIE-Co) is a premier Not-for-Profit organization that came into being due to a fresh perspective at the evolving Education ecosystem worldwide. The founders of CEI-Co identified several stakeholders that populate this new education workspace. They realized that international education is not limited to merely an aspiring student looking up a website and registering for a course of his choice in a university of repute.

Registered with the Government of Canada and headquartered in Ottawa, CEI-Co aims to build an international platform that will allow all the stakeholders of this evolving education workspace to collaborate with each other to effectively utilize the huge potential that each stakeholder possess. Key stakeholders include, education institutes that want to enrol quality students and students that are looking for suitable courses, besides institutions that want to engage in collaborative research, governments that want to sponsor their citizens, teachers and professionals that want to upgrade their skills and organizations that want to provide teaching tools and tackles and so on.

CIE-Co is supported by experienced academicians, writers, research scholars, academic advisors and industry experts who are all invested in researching and implementing ways to advance Canadian Education. These supporters have been working with CIE-Co to bring about a positive change to the traditional Canadian education systems to meet emerging practices worldwide.

CIE-Co is equipped to provide excellent opportunities for all education aspirants across the globe on a single platform. We are committed to providing information, assistance and knowhow to every individual and institute that will allow them to meet their education goals and aspirations. This includes students looking for admissions, international institutes looking for collaborative research, or government bodies looking to sponsor candidates for customised programs.

CIE-Co endeavours to boost relationships between foreign learners studying in Canada and the Canadian academic ecosystem by creating opportunities to maximize student's success and institutes' effectiveness. Opportunities include, Cross-training, teaching opportunities, research and so on.

Through the various programs conducted by CIE-Co associate Agents, a student's path from inquiry to enrolment is seamless by offering invaluable support that every student is looking for during their search and selection of educational programs/institutions in foreign countries. With our global assets and hands-on approach with students, we serve as the perfect platform for Canadian institutions to reach out to meritorious international students that can add value to the institution. The student enrolls into a good institute and the institute admits a good student.

Expanding and Exporting | Canadian Education

Academic collaborations are of utmost importance in the present education climate. With numerous institutions looking to expand and grow their exchange of methods, knowledge and technology, the education space is on the threshold of large-scale collaborative research between different countries and cultures. CIE-Co is equipped and prepared to advise and facilitate the set-up of collaborative research, resource sharing between Canadian institutions and institutions from other countries.

No More | Cultural Gaps or Differences

CIE-Co's team is dedicated to helping foreign students understand Canadian customs and cultures through various workshops, seminars, online sessions, newsletters and student counselling support to ensure that the students are ready and receptive to Canadian Culture and the campus life of a Canadian institute. Helping students prepare for a new country and culture greatly increases their confidence once they arrive and helps them to quickly adjust to their new life at a Canadian institution. The students will be better equipped to focus on their studies and utilize the Canadian education system to the fullest extent.

A New Trends in Canadian Education

Skill Development

CIE-Co is working to help various international institutions setup partner relations with Canadian Colleges and Universities to provide better access to shorter term skill development programs. During these programs, participants will learn from leading academics about the latest concepts and research in their respective fields. CIE-Co is working on academic collaborations with the domestic institutions for shorter duration training programs in selected vertical based on demands from specific partner countries. Faculty exchange programs are a necessary tool to help teachers/professionals understand the latest trends in the industry while also advancing their own professional careers.

Knowledge Hubs – Customising Programs

CIE-Co is working to set-up knowledge centres at major education hubs across the globe to promote Canadian Education. Here one can expect to find complete resources and materials related to the Canadian education system. Many developing nations wish to sponsor their students for higher education and these Knowledge Hubs will facilitate interactions between government departments of other countries and institutes to identify and fine-tune programs to suit particular needs. Students, institutions and governments will be able to access information related to universities, specific programs and availability, application procedures and visa processes to better help aspirants succeed on their pathway to higher Education in Canada. Feedback from the Knowledge Hub will help Canadian institutions create new programs and customise existing programs to suit specific needs.

Connect with Canadian Agencies

An Essential part of CIE-Co's commitment is providing feedback to agencies, institutions, government departments, embassies with regard to current issues being faced by the student community to help ensure a friendly environment for the student. Along with setting up student and faculty workshops, we collect regular surveys from students and member institutions to better serve and provide feedback to help create a more comfortable environment for all the stakeholders.

Creating Awareness - Worldwide

CIE-Co is a Not-for-Profit organizations, and plays the role of a facilitator between the various stakeholders. Canadian institutions may choose to work with any of the agencies in any geographic area in order to disseminate information about their programs and achievement. This will help attract suitable talent for research from students and institutes alike. CIE-Co has created a platform to conduct various workshops, academic exchange events, seminars etc., in all major education hubs across the globe for the promotion of Canadian Education and institutions. We welcome institutions to take a part in and share their ideas and expectations for the future of education. Opportunities are available for domestic partners with a solid understanding of their institutions requirements, vision and goals to become apart of CIE-Co and take part in promoting the partnerships.

Canada
International Education Consortium
Le consortium canadien de l'éducation internationale

 251, Laurier Avenue, Suite 900
Ottawa, Ontario, K1P 5J6,
Canada.

 info@canadainternationaleducation.ca

 +1 613 870 1123

 www.canadainternationaleducation.ca

   canadainternationaleducation